

Corporate Edition : Certification Module

- Reduced administration
 - Shorter training cycle
 - Reduction in trainers needed
 - Real-time monitoring
 - Comprehensive Reporting

Inchone in responding to the Industry needs have developed a Certification Module as an option to the Corporate Edition Learning Management System. Using Inchone's Online Training & Certification System has the following advantages :

Reduced Administrative Work

The administration of the online certification is not only minimised, it is virtually eliminated. If the system is integration to the HR System whereby it can draw on the latest employee status, it leaves only for the administrator to assign the employees the courses to be taken. Once that is done, the system virtually takes over the rest of the function in monitoring, assessment and even reporting

Content : Developed once, deployed instantly

The great thing about online learning, is that once the online content is developed, it can be deployed instantly to anywhere in the world, with a network connection of course. Content which have multimedia contents will be more enriching than content on print or even on slides since employees can interact with it on his own time.

Assessment : Online and instant feedback

An online assessment system with instant feedback reduce the trainers time in having to mark the papers. A question bank allows the tester to select from a list on questions and also even randomise the list to different learners so that all of them do not have the same list of questions. Also assessment results can be analysed to provide feedback on the area of weaknesses that employees then to fail in. Thus, weaknesses can thus be rectified easily.

Certification : Online Monitoring

The administrator or the trainer can view on line the certification status of any employee under their charge. Progress status like progress of the course material or Assessment results can be accessed. The certification module does not only monitor the current certification status, it is also able to issue new certification dates and monitor their ongoing certification status. This automatic
